Dear Family Member:

I'm reading Meet Rosina in class this week. We learned that some books have main ideas and details. The main idea is the writer's most important point. It's the big idea. I learned that details are bits of information that help tell about the main idea. I think the main idea of Meet Rosina is how a deaf girl has a happy life, just like other children. I'm sure as I read I'll find lots of examples that tell about her life.

This Week's Skills

Comprehension: main idea and details

Vocabulary: new meanings for known words

Phonics: different sounds of i

Spelling: different spellings of words with i as in nice and tip

Queridos familiares:

Esta semana estoy leyendo en clase Meet Rosina. Aprendí que algunos libros tienen ideas principales y detalles. La idea principal es lo más importante que dice el autor. Es la idea que se destaca más. Aprendí que los detalles son trocitos de información que ayudan a contar la idea principal. Pienso que la idea principal de Meet Rosina es cómo una niña sorda puede tener una vida feliz, como otros chicos. Seguro que cuando lea voy a encontrar muchos ejemplos acerca de su vida.
