Dear Family Member:

I'm reading The Ugly Vegetables this week. A girl and her mother begin to plant a garden. All the neighbors are planting, too. As the weeks go by the girl keeps wondering why the neighbors' gardens seem better than her own. First one thing happens, and then another. That's called sequence. Looking for it helps me understand a story and keep track of things.

This Week's Skills

Comprehension: sequence

Vocabulary: homophones, such as scent and cent or piece and peace

Phonics: sounds of gn, kn, wr, and mb

Brushing Sequence

Let's help Paul brush his teeth. We can put numbers next to the pictures to show what sequence the steps follow.

This is the way we squeeze the paste,
Squeeze the paste, squeeze the paste.

This is the way we brush our teeth,
Down and down, up and up.

This is the way we begin to brush.

This is the way we wet the brush,
Wet the brush, wet the brush.

And that's the way
We brush our teeth,
Brush our teeth,
Brush our teeth.

And that's the way
We brush our teeth,
Early in the morning!

Queridos familiares:

Esta semana estoy leyendo The Ugly Vegetables. Una niña y su madre comienzan a plantar un jardín. Sus vecinos también están plantando. A medida que las semanas pasan la niña piensa sobre por qué los jardines de los vecinos lucen mejor que el suyo. Primero pasa una cosa, después otra. Eso se llama orden de los sucesos. Al buscar el orden de los sucesos entiendo mejor un cuento y puedo seguir bien lo que pasa.
